These drums combine the sophisticated quality of stained and in a complex process varnished wood with the timeless elegance of hand-polished chrome fittings.

From time immemorial, the bass drum is synonymous with power and expression. For his "Symphonie Fantastique", Berlioz called for the first time a roll and noted in his Requiem two bass drums, Verdi issued a "Gran Cassa solo" in Rigoletto and his sensational success Nabucco. Gustav Mahler needed the vehemence of the bass drum in his symphonies, at Stravinsky the bass drum was essential part in his extraordinary rhythmic and tonal structures.

Design features

Shell made from birch or maple, rims from torsion resistant hard wood, hand polished chromed fittings, quick-wing-screws, extra sturdy casted claw hooks with integrated tension screw insulators and rim protectors.
